

Post disaster resource allocation – peer perspectives

Mexican Case
July 18th

Abstract

- Having a disaster response mechanisms with a previously defined objective, specific budget and clearly defined responsibilities, allows to provide a quick response and make efficient use of resources.
- For the timely attention of the population, it is important to define specific deadlines and activities during the emergency and reconstruction process.
- The coordination between federal agencies and local governments is fundamental for responding to natural disasters.

Disaster Risk Management

Timely, efficient and transparent response

Natural Disasters Fund FONDEN

Timeline FONDEN process

Delivery of resources

Federal agencies and local governments coordination

Disasters relief

UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE
INSTITUTE FOR SUSTAINABILITY LEADERSHIP

Disaster Risk Financing & Insurance Program

SUPPORTED BY WORLD BANK GROUP

CENTRE FOR GLOBAL DISASTER
PROTECTION

GFDRR
Global Facility for Disaster Reduction and Recovery

